Your reference No.3776/23-A-2, dated 20th Aug.1923.

Floods - Cauvery river - Breaches - Kollegal Taluk.

A detailed report has been submitted in this Office R.O.C.No.907-Sub./23 dated 19-8-'23. The floods have now subsided, and it is said they are not likely to rise again. The breach on the Sivasamudram bridge has been temporarily made up by means of wooden planks so as to allow only foot passengers to pass. The Postal authorities have now begun to convey the tapals via Maddur as usual.

The damage done is only to the crops, and in my opinion, not serious. The crops when they got submerged under water, were only about one month old; and the additional expenditure which the ryot has now to meet is for the seed grains and a little ploughing. A better crop is likely to result in view of the fact that the flood waters generally leave a certain quantity of silt which will act as manure for the crops. The other disadvantage will be that the harvest is delayed by a month or two.
